Sparse network of asymmetric transfer relationships

Nodes are countries; directed edges point from the country for which transfer is harder toward the counterpart. All countries are labeled. Node color indicates region; node size reflects betweenness and asymmetry degree.